HEALTH OFFICIALS BACK.

popularity of cremation as a means of disposing of the dead may be obtained from the statement that in the period commencing December 1st of last year and ending on June 30th last 6952 bodies were cremated in Tokio. Of these 3566 were consumed in the central crematory. There are three grades of cremations. The first is for the nobles and very wealthy people and the price charged at the crematory is in American money $7 for adults and $5 for children. The second grade is for ordinary people and the price is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. The third class is for the very poor and the terms are $2 for adults and 75 cents for children. Cremation is optional except in deaths from contagious or infectious diseases when the government makes it compulsory. The courtesy of the official above spoken of went so far as to order a body specially cremated in their presence. The relatives bring the bodies to the crematory in a sort of coffin shaped like a barrel, the body being doubled up inside. This is placed in a receptacle and sealed up. The next day the parties come again and the seal is broken in their presence. They are furnished with chopsticks with which they are allowed to pick out bits of bone or anything which may not have been perfectly incinerated for preservation.

Lack of space prevents further recapitulation of the many interesting things Dr. Wood had to tell about his trip.

TRAMWAYS AGAIN MULCT.

For Collecting Ten Cents in the Five-Cent Limits.

The Supreme Court has rendered a decision upon a second suit brought by C. W. Dickey against the Hawaiian Tramways Company, for the statutory penalty of $100 for overcharge of fare. It is written by Justice Whiting and signed by all the Justices. In the other case, the decision of which has been already reported, plaintiff recovered the penalty for being charged ten cents for a continuous trip, in one car, from Nuanu to Punahou. When judgment was given in the District Court, the company broke the journey at Queen street, using separate cars for each division of the route, and charging five cents as the fare for one ride in each car, equal to a charge of ten cents for the whole journey. Plaintiff boarded a car on Nuanu street which stopped at Queen street. He asked for a transfer ticket to continue his journey on the car for Punahou by way of Fort and Beretania streets. The driver had no transfer to give him, and taking the other car he paid on its driver's demand another fare of five cents.

Mr. Dickey forthwith brought a second suit for the penalty, which being decided in his favor finally came to the Supreme Court on the defendant's appeal. The decision now rendered affirms the judgment, saying: "A street railway company, which is prohibited by law from charging more than five cents for each passenger using its cars within certain limits, cannot, by causing a change of cars within those limits, acquire the right to charge an additional fare." Dickey and Ballou for plaintiff; Neumann and Davis for defendant.

Judge Carter has over-ruled the demurrer of defendant in the ejectment case of C. K. Kapenlii, trustee for Kaula, vs. Nakuia. Against the contention of the demurrer the Court says "it is not required that the plaintiff should set up the kind of title asserted by those through whom he claims. All that is required is that he should set forth in his complaint the nature of his own title." Castle for plaintiff; Poepee for defendant.

Ah Chow and Ah Foo pleaded guilty of having opium in possession and were fined $50 each.

The trial of Pohue for kidnapping a girl named Malamalama, aged 11 years, was partly heard this morning and continued to the 25th.

The adultery case against Noyo and Shimamura was dismissed.
